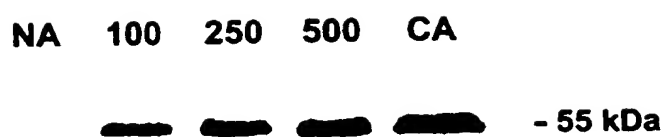

FIGURE 3

A black and white photograph of a large, flat, open field, possibly a dry lake bed or a vast plain. The field is covered in a dense, dark, textured material, likely mud or sand. In the background, there are dark, silhouetted trees and structures, possibly a fence or a line of vegetation. The sky is dark and overcast.

A dark, grainy, black and white photograph of a textured surface, possibly a book cover or a wall. The texture is uneven and mottled, with various shades of gray and black. A vertical strip of lighter, more uniform material is visible along the right edge, suggesting a hinge or a different material used for the spine of a book. The overall appearance is aged and worn.
